

Corporate Governance & Securities

We know that you need more than legal technicians to navigate the rapidly changing landscape of corporate governance, securities law compliance and risk management. Your governance and disclosure must highlight your success and advance your corporate strategy, rather than get in the way. Our commitment to understanding your goals and ability to apply decades of problem-solving experience to your issues makes us your ally in that process.

We know also that you require efficiency at every turn – without sacrificing quality. We combine one of the broadest teams in the region with proactive staffing and relationship management to tackle each project with the right attorney so you get the best results.

We are the team behind your team – delivering powerful, practical advice to help you move your business forward with confidence.

REPRESENTATIVE EXPERIENCE

Securities Law

We handle everything from investor relations to Exchange Act reports to complex capital raising for public and private companies. We carefully track new developments and survey the market and your peers so that you can focus on your business. We know you have a story to tell and we work seamlessly with every member of your internal team so you can move things off your list.

Corporate Governance

The avalanche of corporate governance regulation over the last decade shows no signs of slowing down as government and shareholder attention shifts from one area of corporate responsibility to another. Reconciling the diverse interests of regulators, investors, boardrooms and C-suites is challenging, and we are here to provide both leadership and support, as your circumstances dictate.

We are your resource for everything from Board and management counseling to policy revisions to employee training on the latest hot topics. We pride ourselves on truly knowing each client, their business and their people so that we deliver advice that is carefully tailored to the goals, risk tolerance and temperament of each client.

Risk Management

Enterprise Risk Management is critical to the success of every organization. Our attorneys help you protect your operations, satisfy stakeholder interests and achieve your business goals by looking beyond mere compliance and adding true strategic value.
